

DIRAC17 Personal Licence to Use Agreement

Dirac release DIRAC17 is an experimental code for the calculation of relativistic molecular properties.

A personal licence for release DIRAC17 means that you and your research group may use and modify the DIRAC17 programs subject to the terms given below. This agreement applies to all revisions of the DIRAC17 release. In the following all references to DIRAC17 refer to all parts of release DIRAC17, that is, all files in the distribution as well as generated object files and executables.

In order to obtain and use DIRAC release DIRAC17, you are required to agree to the following terms:

1. The source code and the documentation is not being placed in the public domain and the copyright for the source code and the documentation rests with the authors (listed further below).
 - (a) You are required to make sure that no part of DIRAC17 (including executables and object files) is distributed to users outside your research group. In particular, no person leaving your research group may take a copy of DIRAC17 with him/her, unless that person has obtained his/her own licence.
 - (b) You will make sure that no part of DIRAC17 can be accessed by people not included in this licence. When you stop using a computer you will make sure that all DIRAC17 files, including object files and executables, are deleted on that computer.
 - (c) You may modify the DIRAC17 program for your own use, provided you state that you have used a modified version of DIRAC17 together with the reference to DIRAC17 given below.
 - (d) The DIRAC17 source code may not, in whole or in part, be included in any program code you distribute to other users, whether they have a DIRAC17 licence or not, without the specific written consent of the DIRAC17 authors or their authorized representative.

2. No fee may be charged for the use of the DIRAC17 programs or any part of the programs.
3. You accept that the experimental nature of the DIRAC17 programs means that there is no warranty of correctness of results nor fitness for a particular purpose and that the authors of DIRAC17 cannot be held responsible in any way for any consequences arising from the use of the program. While every attempt will be made to correct any errors reported to the DIRAC authors (see <http://diracprogram.org>), the authors of DIRAC are not obliged to make such corrections, nor is there any support for users implied by making the program available.
4. Any published work arising from use of the DIRAC17 program must acknowledge the program with an appropriate citation:

DIRAC, a molecular electronic structure program, release DIRAC17 (2017), see <http://diracprogram.org/doku.php?id=citation>
5. You will see to that other members of your research group using your copy of DIRAC17 abide these terms.

I have read and agree to the terms for the use of the DIRAC17 program.
